Vancouver's BEST Pre-lay Workshop

Casting Director
Randi Riediger

Randi holds a workshop that is in-depth and fun. It covers deadlines, teamwork, and commitment and is a safe space to ask questions and make mistakes. Its purpose is to help you get new to pre-lay. You will write a three page script in 30 minutes (you will be given a sample to follow). You will have at least two character voices prepared. The morning will include a vocal warm up, a script reading, and improvisational theatre games (including a game called "The Industry" exercise that will show you what is expected in the industry standard.

After lunch, we will meet in a rehearsal room (to be determined), where you will read your three-page script in a half-hour. You will be in a rehearsal environment for the entire pre-lay session with lessons in rehearsal protocol.
